

WEST PALOUSE RIVER DRIVE PROPERTY

South of West Palouse River Drive

44 Acres

Description:

This open space property is located on West Palouse River Drive, across from the southern access point of the University of Idaho's Arboretum.

History:

2002:

- November 11- The West Palouse River Drive Ball Fields property was purchased for $152,300 from Sherman Clyde.

2003:

- PCEI, in conjunction with the City of Moscow, performed the river restoration project at a cost of $506,000. This included 12,000 plantings along the river with 47 plant species, 25 of which are woody.

2011:

- After years of planning a ball field project, the City Council decided not to pursue the project any longer due to the high expense of $7.9 million.

2016:

- A portion of the park became Moscow's first public Cyclocross Park, available to riders of all ages. The seven-acre, mile-long dirt course is located on West Palouse River Drive
