

PUBLIC SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Americans are served every day by public servants at the federal, state, county and city levels, who supply continuity to our democratic society; and

WHEREAS, public employees and community volunteers serve in areas such as health, education, public safety, the arts, the environment, finance, public infrastructure, community planning, human rights, recreation, and more; and

WHEREAS, the public employees of the City of Moscow are committed to exhibiting the highest standards of professional excellence, creativity, skill, and customer service; and

WHEREAS, the dedicated volunteers who serve on City of Moscow commissions inform and advise policymakers and are integral to the advancement of the quality of life that we enjoy here; and

WHEREAS, University of Idaho students from the ASUI Center for Volunteerism and Social Action, from service learning programs, and student interns contribute to society in meaningful ways; and

WHEREAS, the efficiency of government relies on public employees and volunteers, who provide services in the quality and quantity required and expected by the public; and

WHEREAS, the City of Moscow recognizes the generous contributions of time and talent by public employees and community volunteers, and the importance of the services they render;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nancy Chaney, Mayor of the City of Moscow, do hereby proclaim May 3-9 as:

Public Service Recognition Week

in the City of Moscow and call upon all citizens to recognize and express their appreciation for the important contributions of public employees and community volunteers throughout the city and around the world.

DATED this 3rd day of May, 2010

Nancy Chaney
